Our New Navy.

By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The bids for over $5,000,000 worth of new naval vessels were opened at the Navy Department at noon. The vessels bid for were three. There was considerable excitement about the contest between the rival ship-builders.

The largest of the three vessels—in fact, the largest vessel ever designed for the United States Navy—is known officially as armored cruiser No. 2, and popularly as the 8,100-ton vessel. She belongs to the class of swift cruisers, and is very close to a battle-ship, in that she is provided with a moderately heavy armor belt, besides a protective deck. The armor will be eight inches thick, and a curved protective deck six inches thick. She will be armed with six eight-inch and twelve four-inch breech-loading rifles, and will develop 16,000 indicated horse-power and a speed of twenty knots. The dimensions are: Length, 380 feet; extreme breadth, 64 feet 2½ inches; depth in hold, 41 feet 3 inches.

The other large vessel, designated as cruiser No. 6, is to have a displacement of 5,500 tons. She has no armor, but is provided with a protective deck eight and three-quarters inches thick. Her main batteries consist of two eight-inch and ten four-inch breech-loading rifles. She is to make twenty knots an hour, with 13,500 horse power. Dimensions: Length, 330 feet; extreme breadth, 53 feet; depth, 33 feet. The third vessel is a practice cruiser of 800 tons—a miniature man-of-war for training cadets at the Naval Academies. It is generally expected the builder who is awarded the contract for this vessel will lose money, as there is just as much material to go in her as in some of the larger cruisers.

The appropriation limits for the three vessels are: The armored cruiser, $3,500,000; the protected cruiser, $1,800,000; the practice ship, $200,000.

Bids for the armored cruiser No. 2 were the first considered, as follows: Union Iron Works of San Francisco, $3,100,000; William Cramp & Sons of Philadelphia, $3,150,000; Risdon Iron Works and Locomotive Works of San Francisco, $3,450,000.

The Union Iron Works and Cramp & Sons also submitted bids for a vessel according to their own plans and specifications. The former's bid was $3,000,000 and the latter's $2,985,000. Bids for protective cruiser number six were next received. There were but two, each from the Union Iron Works of San Francisco. They proposed to construct a vessel according to the department plans and specifications for $1,796,000, and according to their own plans and specifications for $1,760,000.

Two bids only were received for the practice vessel as follows: F. W. Wheeler, West Bay City, Mich., $245,000; and Samuel L. Moore & Co., Elizabethport, N. J., $250,000. These were both in accordance with the department plans. There will be no awards for several weeks.

Squadron of Evolution.

By Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, June 10.—Advices to the Associated Press from the United States squadron of evolution, dated at Gibraltar, May 23, give a detailed account of the dressing of the ships, firing of a salute and other honors on Queen Victoria's birthday, and the parade and review of the British ships on the shore, etc.

The squadron was expected to leave for Brazil on the following Monday, stopping en route at Madeira and St. Vincent. The health of the squadron is good.

Would Repair the Damage.

By Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, June 10.—The steamer Werra, brought in by a pilot this morning, reports that on Sunday morning she spoke the steamer La Bourgogne, hence for Havre, laying to with her machinery out of order. She had been stopped since midnight. The Captain said they would make the necessary repairs and proceed on the voyage.

Congressional Proceedings.

By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The Republicans of the Senate Finance Committee this morning further considered the tariff bill. The wool and silk schedules were examined and some items agreed to.

Senator Edmunds introduced a bill in the Senate providing that all funds or other property lately belonging to or in the possession or claimed by the corporation of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints shall be devoted to the benefit of the public schools in Utah, the money to be disposed of by the Secretary of the Interior in such manner as shall seem to him most expedient. The Supreme Court of Utah is invested with authority to make all necessary and proper orders and decrees for that purpose. After the United Supreme Court rendered a decree annulling the charter and excheating to the United States the property of the Mormon Church, it withheld a decree in the case, through a desire to find the best method of disposing of the confiscated property, or finding the private owners to whom it might be reverted. The object of Senator Edmunds' bill is to secure by Congressional enactment, to what use the money and property may be devoted and relieve the Court of its embarrassment.

The silver bill was then taken up by unanimous consent, given at the request of Jones of Nevada. After 3 o'clock on Friday debate is to be limited to five minutes by any Senator on any question.

The question being on Plumb's amendment that no funds available for the payment of the public debt, including such as are kept for the redemption of United States notes, shall be retained in the Treasury in excess of $10,000,000.

On motion of Pierce this amendment was amended by the addition of the words "provided that gold and silver coin and gold bullion in the Treasury, on which gold and silver certificates have been issued, shall not be considered available for any purpose except the redemption of such certificates."

Among the petitions presented and referred was one from the New Orleans Chamber of Commerce asking an appropriation of $500,000 for the establishment of a steamship line between New Orleans and the west coast of Africa.

The House silver bill was referred to the Finance Committee.

HOUSE.

The Speaker laid before the House a Senate bill amendatory of the Internal Revenue laws. Passed.

It authorizes the Commissioner of Internal Revenue to formulate rules and regulations by which beer may be carried direct from the vats to the bottling department without passage through the intermediate process of being drawn into kegs.

The Senate bill was passed changing the present system of drawback on exported beer and fermented liquors permitted in exportation in the same manner as distilled spirits are now handled.

A Partial Reorganization.

By Associated Press.]

WASHINGTON, June 10.—The Republican Senators will caucus to-night for the selection of a successor of Colonel W. P. Canaday, Sergeant-at-Arms, who retires on the 30th. The candidates for the position so far are Reade of Maine, Byington of Connecticut, Dunn of Delaware, Bailey of Pennsylvania, Swords of Iowa, Valentine of Nebraska, Reed of Minnesota and General L. S. Wilson of Bozeman, Mont.

It is possible the caucus may go farther in a reorganization than the Sergeant-at-Arms, but of this there is no official notice.

A Tough Gang.

By Associated Press.]

PITTSBURG, June 10.—A tough colored club held a picnic at Castle Shannon. Shooting and cutting was the order of the day at the grounds and on the train returning. Frank Morrison was killed, a girl shot in the thigh and many others hurt. On their arrival they were arrested by the wholesale.

The Northern Pacific Makes an Important Deal.

Increasing Her Army.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

PESTH, June 10.—The Minister of War has addressed the Austro-Hungarian delegations on the subject of the credits asked by the Government for military purposes. He said he regretted to be compelled to declare that the military credits submitted could not be reduced; that the budget estimates only represented the foundations on which the building must be continued during the next few years. Important augmentations of the military forces of the Empire are becoming unavoidable, and the question of increasing the army would have to be considered. The other States have increased their military strength, and Austro-Hungary could not remain inactive, although the Government is not able to strain its resources to such an extent as is being done by Germany. The demands contained in the budget were the extreme minimum to which the Government could go.

A Northern Pacific Deal.

By Associated Press.]

NEW YORK, June 10.—The Times says: The conference of railroad men held in this city a few days ago resulted in an agreement by which the Northern Pacific obtains control of the Seattle, Lake Shug & Eastern, the incomplete road projected from Seattle to Spokane Falls, Wash., by assuming the obligations of its bonds. One hundred miles are already built. The contract was signed by H. O. Armour, Gen. Thomas Logan and Edward D. Chester, representing the Seattle road. This deal practically shuts out the Great Northern from a connection at Puget Sound. It was authoritatively stated that Villard had secured the most of the land bordering on Lake Washington, and that the line will run around the lake.

Austrian Politics.

By Cable and Associated Press.]

VIENNA, June 10.—Strong efforts are being made to reconcile the differences between the old Czechs and Germans in the Bohemian diet. Emperor Francis Joseph to-day gave audience to the leaders of the two parties. His Majesty declared that arrangements looking to a settlement of the difficulties, adopted by the recent German-Czech conference at Vienna, would certainly be effected. This utterance was a departure from the Emperor's customary reserve, and it is expected to have a decisive influence in settling the long standing troubles between the two political parties.

The Wrecked Horse Train.

By Associated Press.]

KANSAS CITY, June 10.—The remnant of the wrecked Wabash horse train arrived this morning. In the caboose were eight wounded colored men and boys, the most of them belonging to Chinn & Morgan's stable, and scarcely one escaped with less than a broken leg. They were removed to the hospital.

The stable the most affected by the wreck is that of J. Kellar of Cynthiana, Ky., who, with his son, perished. They had five horses, and every one was killed.

Buzzed Alive.

By Associated Press.]

CHICAGO, June 10.—An afternoon paper prints the following: Last Sunday the funeral of John Buske, who died on Saturday suddenly, was held at his residence. His friends remarked that he had a lifelike appearance, but the doctor pronounced him dead. When the cortege reached the cemetery some one suggested that the coffin be opened, but this was voted down, notwithstanding the tapping from the inside of the coffin indicated there was life there. As the body was being lowered into the grave the tapping became more pronounced, but the burial proceeded.

Yesterday the grave was opened and the coffin removed and examined. Buske's body was twisted, his features distorted, his tongue bitten nearly in two, his finger nails imbedded in his flesh and every indication that a terrible struggle had taken place.

Fatal Railroad Accident.

By Associated Press.]

HANNIBAL, Mo., June 10.—A construction train collided with a freight on the St. Louis, Keokuk & Northwestern, twelve miles south of here yesterday. Twelve cars were wrecked, and firemen Arthur A. Taylor and Berry Nelson were scalded to death and several other trainmen were injured.

Baltimore Sells Her Rail Road Stock.

By Associated Press.]

BALTIMORE, June 10.—A deal for the transfer of three and a half millions worth of Baltimore & Ohio stock, owned by the city, to a syndicate, was completed to-day. The papers were signed and a half million paid, the remaining three millions to be paid before July 1st.

The Inter-State Match.

Last Sunday's contest between 25 men of a San Francisco military company and the same number of the Carson Guard, resulted in a victory for the Californians by ten points. It is understood the Californians were allowed all the practice shots they desired, while every shot fired by the Carson team was counted. It is claimed that these practice shots gave the San Francisco's an average of 10 points to the man, which if allowed would give the Nevadans the match by 40 points.

OUR PRICES TALK.

5 O'CLOCK EDITION.

AN amendment to the McKinley tariff bill is before the Senate providing for the creation of a permanent customs Commission to investigate and report upon all matters affecting the tariff. It would be the duty of the committee to hear all complaints against the workings of the McKinley tariff bill, if it should be enacted, and to consider amendments which representatives of the various industries might suggest. An objection to the creation of such a commission is that there would be at every session of Congress propositions to review the tariff. Nothing, says the call, could be more detrimental to the industries of the country than constantly impending changes in the rates of duty imposed by the tariff. Should the Democrats carry the next House they would feel it their duty to review the tariff on the basis of the duties of revenue only, but if the Republicans succeed the tariff should stand until there should be an unmistakable demand for a change. Any uncertainty as to what the duties will be the next year deters capital from seeking investments in industrial enterprises. In periods of such doubt capital accepts low rates of interest with good security rather than take the chances of loss through a change in the laws.

The House yesterday passed the McKinley silver bill, and the Journal has it as an omen of free coinage in the near future. It is not as good as a free coinage bill, because of the near future, but it is the next thing to it, and should it become a law, in its present shape, but because of the immense advantage to the people of the United States, and particularly to us of Nevada, it is a good thing.

The Journal has an obnoxious measure "as an omen of free coinage" in one issue and says in the next that the bill has no merits and that it will never become a law in its present shape. Why, neighbor this flop? You have evidently stuffed your turkey with wind and are blowing it off, hoping to suit public sentiment regardless of consistency.

THE talk in Chicago now is that the pending sale of the stock-yards to an English syndicate is a movement of heavy stockholders to get out, in view of the probable removal of the business further from the heart of the city. Recent reports from various parts of the country indicate that a great deal of this may be going on. The Bulletin says that several instances may be noted where English syndicates have found themselves left with the form of a business, the substance of which has followed the old owners. It is not likely that English capital will crowd all the Americans out of their own factories and warehouses.

OUR dispatches to-day tell of another victim who came to his death in San Francisco this morning from the effects of a "glove contest" at the Golden Gate Club-rooms last evening. Just how long this "manly art" craze will be kept up remains to be seen, but the people should lose no time in framing and passing a law against the practice. For two brutes to get up and hammer each other bloody for the edification of a crowd of people with blunted sensibilities is degrading in the extreme, and should not be recognized by a respectable press or people.

THERE seems to be a growing opposition to the increase in the army bill in the German Reichstag. The combination of the various parties in opposition may prove strong enough to defeat it, unless fear of France can be aroused. The latest returns of the armies of the two powers show that France could mobilize about 700,000 men more than Germany by calling in all reserves, although the German army is believed to be more efficient.

STANLEY did not manifest any surplus of modesty when he refused to attend a banquet given to one of the officers of his recent expedition, on the ground that he cannot play second fiddle to one of his own subordinates. He might have contrived to be unavoidably absent without giving himself away.

HON. JOHN D. GOODWIN of Plumas is talked of for Member of Congress from that District.

DIAMONDS ON DISPLAY.

Washington Ladies Wear Them on All Occasions.

The Blue-White Brilliant is the Most Fashionable Gem at the Present Time. Extraordinary in Size, Ornament and Necklaces.

Three fifths of the diamonds of the United States are owned by New York and Washington leaders of society, says the Washington Post. Diamonds are worth more to-day than they have been in a long while. In the past four months the finer qualities have advanced nearly twenty-five per cent, owing to the manipulations of a London trust, which governs the African and India mines. American women wear their diamonds at certain social gatherings and in the opera with less fear perhaps than the ladies of any other nationality. There is always something about an American-born woman showing her free and fearless-going way in life, which is remarkably noticeable, and particularly when seen in any other country. Leading Washington society women go about covered with diamonds and other precious gems. The fashion in diamonds is constantly changing. The taste of Americans is becoming highly educated upon precious gems, and their purchases embrace the finest that the market affords. In the wonderful collection of diamonds and other precious gems of Mrs. Leland Stanford, Mrs. Senator Hearst, Mrs. Morton, wife of Vice-President Morton, and Mrs. Jones, of Nevada, it is observed that the time has arrived when large pieces or designs are in vogue.

Wearing diamonds is an art. At present it is considered perfectly proper and correct to surround the neck with one or more necklaces of diamonds or several strings of pearls with one handsome diamond necklace, from which there should be a pendant. The center stone of this pendant should be a gem of any other color or nature, either a ruby, emerald, sapphire, black pearl or a canary diamond of unquestionable color, encircled or ornamentally surrounded by blue-white brilliants.

The latter is a stone which is growing very fashionable, and any private collection without this beautiful diamond is not up to date. The decoration of the wrist should consist of a bracelet with a center stone surrounded by smaller diamonds. On the left wrist a collection of bracelets is in order, to entirely surround the wrist or only half way, and consisting of diamonds, rubies, emeralds and sapphires. Care should always be taken that the bracelets are mounted so that they lay close to each other to form a small cuff.

It is the correct thing at large dinners or other state occasions to wear as many rings as a lady may feel inclined to, or her parure of jewels will permit, on both hands. There was an idea that the thumb ring would become fashionable, but that seems to have passed. Hair ornaments are becoming more extravagant in their designs all the time, as it is one of the most conspicuous places to display a handsome star or sunburst, or a grand and imposing tiara of diamonds.

A very beautiful effect is produced by wearing a number of small brooches around the edge of a decollete. Leaders of fashion in the precious gems should always bear in mind to wear stones that harmonize in color with their style of dress. A lady wearing white or black has the advantage over those wearing bright and fancy colors, as her jewels need not consist entirely of one kind.

Cutting diamonds is one thing in which this country is ahead of any other nation. It has been made a close study and without doubt is an art. There is more beauty and brilliancy obtained from the American cut diamond than the diamond which is cut in Holland and has what is called the "old Dutch cut," and usually is found to be of a somewhat square shape, rather irregular and many small facets. Americans cut them perfectly round and with only sixty-four facets to the table.

A great many heavy purchasers of diamonds and the general public labor under the impression that diamonds are purchased cheaper in London or Paris than here. This is not the case, the greatest and the cheapest diamond market of the world to-day being New York City.

HOW KOSUTH LIVES.

The Famous Hungarian Statesman Spends His Declining Years.

Kossuth, the ex-Dictator of Hungary and the indirect cause of the withdrawal from the Magyar Premiership of Koloman Tisza, resides at Turin in a house on the Via del Milite. He is now in his eighty-seventh year, but notwithstanding his advanced age has retained the most surprising mental and physical vigor. This is possibly due to his regular mode of life. After his bath he takes a walk of one or two hours' duration, returning between twelve and one to luncheon. All the afternoon he reads and works in his cabinet, a lofty room with vaulted and painted ceiling, and painted in a warm red color. He writes seated at a huge flat desk placed between the two windows, with his back to the light. The desk is covered with papers mostly tied with red tape and carefully docketed for reference. On the wall are several good pictures, and facing the desk is an admirable full-length portrait of the General himself. Beneath on a table is the gift of the working-men of England—a complete edition of Shakespeare's works, inclosed in a case which is a miniature fac-simile of the poet's house at Stratford-on-Avon. He dines at seven, and after the meal, notwithstanding the eight or ten miles which he has walked during the day, he is good for an hour's game of billiards. At nine he usually takes tea, and retires to bed about eleven. With reference to his bed, it may be of interest to mention that he has retained the old Hungarian custom of having the upper sheet sewn to the blanket.

Entitled to the Best. All are entitled to the best that their money will buy, so every family should have, at once, a bottle of the best family Remedy, Syrup of Figs, to cleanse the system from costive and bilious. For sale in 50c. and $1.00 bottles by all leading druggists.

Strong Language. J. B. Langham, ex-mayor of North Des Moines, Iowa, said recently: "I have just recovered from a severe attack of grippe. I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm to my breast. These remedies were just the thing in my case. My child had croup some years ago, and we used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy with perfect success, since then we have never been without these medicines in our house. I and a cousin who was a printer and was employed in a job office in this city, where they were printing circulars for Chamberlain. He had a deep-seated cold and a terrible cough, and while setting up the copy he made up his mind to buy a bottle. It cured his cough and that was the first time I ever knew anything of Chamberlain's remedies. I have been strongly in their favor ever since. My own experience and that of my family convince me that these remedies are the best in the world. That is what I think." For sale by Shoemaker & Co.

The Preventive of a Terrible Disease. No disorders, except the most deadly forms of lung disease, involve such a tremendous destruction to the organic tissue as those which fasten upon the kidneys. Such maladies, when they become chronic, and none are so liable to assume that phase—completely wreck the system. To prevent this terrible disease, recourse should be had, from the first setting in of trouble, to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which experience has proved to be highly effective as a means of imparting tone and regularity to the organs of urination, as well as to the liver, stomach and bowels. Another beneficial result of this medicine, naturally consequent upon its diuretic action, is the elimination from the blood of impurities which begot rheumatism, neuralgia, gout, dropsy and other maladies. By increasing the activity of the kidneys, it augments the depurative efficiency of these organs, which are most important outlets for the escape of such impurities.

Consumption Incurable. Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an incurable consumptive. Began taking Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, am now on my third bottle, and able to oversee the work on my farm. It is the finest medicine ever made." Jesse Middlewear, Decatur, Ohio, says: "Had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption I would have died of lung troubles; was given up by doctors; am now a host of health." Try it. Sample bottles free at Finsinger's drug store.

Somebody Tells Somebody. Dr. B. Hamilton, of Lemoore, Cal., says a few dozen bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which he sold there created such a demand for the remedy that he could not well do without it. Those who use it find it so much superior to any other remedy they have ever tried that they recommend it to their friends, and that is what makes it so popular. For sale by Shoemaker & Co.

ADVERTISED LETTERS.

British Immorality.

A London correspondent writes a New York paper as follows: There obtains in England a lamentably low moral tone; as for London, it is unquestionably the wickedest city in the world. Unapproached in its particular of population and in many most astounding and delectable particulars, London is also a prodigy of corruption, of iniquity, of conceit and of hypocrisy.

Rich Placer Mines.

The Winnemucca Silver State says: Julio Bonifield has brought down about $1,000 in dust from his placer mines south of Golconda. The dust is coarse and pure, and the mines, with a fair head of water, pay big wages—from one to two ounces a day to the hand. The Judge thinks they have found the ledge from which the gold came, as a piece of gold worth about $8 was found in the quartz.

Opposing Increased Taxation.

The South Carolina railroads are kicking against increased taxation. The valuation per mile of all the railroads in the State has been increased except one, and the Board's new figures make an increase in the State of nearly $2,500,000 in the valuation placed on railroads for the purpose of taxation. The increase on the Richmond and Danville roads alone amounts to $1,062,000.

The Pioche Railroad.

The Pioche Record says: In all probability next Christmas will witness the completion of the extension of the Utah Central Railroad to a point three miles north of town, in the Flat. The question of whether the line will build here or not is affirmatively settled, and two graders' camps are now located and at work this side of Dutch Flat.

"A Pair of Jacks."

It is the universal expression of local managers that Gratton Donnelly's farce comedy, "A Pair of Jacks," is bound to be a big winner and that it has accomplished more in the way of laugh-making since its opening night than any other similar production has ever done in the same length of time. At McKissick's Opera house on Thursday, the 12th inst.

Severely Injured.

Frank Doten, the well-known Carson-Bodie teamster, was recently seriously and perhaps fatally injured by the falling of his saddle horse, whereby he was so badly hurt that he remained insensible for many hours after the accident. The injured man is a cousin of Alf Doten of Nevada newspaper notoriety.

Going by Way of Hedding.

The New Era says: According to the Hedding Democrat, it is said that the Reno Cedarville stage line will soon be changed so that all mail and express matter will come through Hedding instead of going to Reno. One of the contractors of that line was here this week looking over the Bieber road and making observations.

Can Pay the Forty-Two Cents.

The debt of New York City is $144,301,215.42. The Herald says: "We can pay the forty-two cents whenever called for, but the rest we shall probably leave to our children with our blessing."

New Orleans Lottery.

The New Orleans Delta says: From the refusal of the lottery to obey the law and exhibit a statement of its assets and liabilities when called on, we judge that it does not desire to give too much prominence to the fact that it does a $28,000,000 a year business on less than $28,000 of assets.

Accidentally Killed.

In a struggle at Sacramento Sunday between a man named Whittaker and his wife for the possession of a pistol, the charge was exploded and the ball entered the wife's side and killed her. The parties were colored, and the contest for the pistol was not in anger.

A Big Drive.

The Truckee Republican says: The first drive of logs of the Boca Mill Company has been completed successfully, and about 5,000,000 feet of saw timber is in the pond. Another drive of 2,000,000 feet will be made later.

Horses as Food.

The use of horse-flesh as food in the cities of Europe is already extensive. At the horse-slaughtering stations of Paris 15,000 is the number now killed each year. In Vienna and Berlin the number is seven or eight thousand per year.

Meeting of the Whys.

A meeting of the Why Club takes place this evening and several prominent members of society will be initiated into the mysteries. All members are requested to attend and be prepared.

An Improbable Story.

The Paris correspondent of the London Times, doubtless Blowitz, says that the anti-Jewish movement in France is so intense that a man, who gave him the information himself, was hired by a furious anti-Semite for the purpose of assassinating an American Jew, Dr. Cornelius Herz (once a member of the San Francisco Board of Health), representative of the United States at the Paris Electric Exhibition. This man had seen in the Figaro an advertisement for one capable of accepting any mission. He applied, and, in an interview with the advertiser, he received an offer of 50,000 francs if he would murder Dr. Herz.

A Sacramento Suicide.

W. W. Phillips, a jeweler, attempted suicide at Sacramento last Sunday night. He was employed in San Francisco, and received notice that his wife had applied for a divorce. He hurried to Sacramento, and, on going to the residence of his wife's parents at night, saw a party enjoying themselves in a happy way. In a moment of chagrin and anger, he fatally shot himself.

Ireland's Population Decreasing.

The great potato blight in Ireland took place on August 5, 1846, and the famine began a few weeks later and lasted through the greater part of 1847, during which time, it has been estimated, about one million two hundred and fifty thousand persons died of starvation. The population, which was increasing up to the time of the famine, has been decreasing ever since. In 1841 Ireland had 8,196,597 inhabitants; in 1881, 5,144,983, while they went below the 5,000,000 mark in 1888, and in 1891, when the last national count is taken, it is estimated that they will be under 4,500,000.

Treatment of Leprosy.

Miss Kate Marsden, whose investigation of leprosy in Russia has been mentioned frequently, had interviews with M. Pasteur with the view of ascertaining whether inoculation could be resorted to. M. Pasteur, however, could hold out no hope of leprosy being dealt with in that way. Miss Marsden is anxious that this negative result should be promptly known in New Zealand, where hopes have been entertained of the applicability of the Pasteur treatment to Maori lepers. Miss Marsden is about to return to Russia to continue her investigation.

Battle of Waterloo.

The ceremonies attendant upon the observation of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the battle of Waterloo, on the 18th of June, will probably call forth reminiscences enough to make Gettysburg literature seem but a pamphlet. Those of the living who were actually present at Waterloo are very few. The Duke of Albemarle, who has an ensign at Waterloo, is believed to be the last survivor of the British officers. But there will be no end of people present who remember those who remembered the battle.

Cheap Binding Twine.

The McCormick Reaper Company recently paid $100,000 for the Keller binding twine machine. The instrument is of apparently simple construction and seems to do its work to perfection. A roll of over one thousand feet in one piece, made from slough grass, was exhibited, and it is put up at a cost of one-quarter of a cent a pound. Those who have seen it say it is destined to revolutionize the binding-twine business.

Value of the Fish Product.

The annual catch of fish on the European and North American coasts is computed by a German statistician to amount to 150,000 tons. A ton of fish corresponds with twenty-five sheep in weight and with twenty sheep in nourishing power. Therefore, the total European and North American catches equals in number 42,000,000 sheep, and in nourishing power 30,000,000.

PRACTICAL TESTS.

An Astonishing Offer—Some of the Replies.

The San Francisco papers of recent date contained the following offer:— "Is an evidence of the ability of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla to prevent headaches, we will give to the first twelve responsible persons who will apply at our office a bottle free if they will agree that after they have been cured that they will admit this fact over their signatures." This offer so startlingly asserted the efficiency of the remedy that many accepted, and the letters of the parties, nearly all of whom responded, are probably the most convincing attestations that any remedy ever received. The following is a sample of those received:—

"I have been subject to bilious headaches and constipation for several years past; in fact, have been compelled to take a physic every other night or else I would have a headache and dull, mean feeling. I have taken that bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, and have derived great benefit from it, and intend continuing it. After my own experience I can heartily advise those troubled with biliousness and constipation to try it. Yours, CHAS. E. ELKINGTON, 125 Locust Avenue, San Francisco.

AN OLD MAID'S SOLILOQUY.

"To take or not to take it, the question—Whether it is to end this earthly career. A spinster—braving the smiles of those who think her lonely state a lonely state. Or take the remedies my sisters take. And see my eyes grow bright as the light in the Imperial Court of the East sought to vain in Florida's forest shades. I oft have heard my married sisters say (I don't quite know if I should say so) that good old Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription would bring back color to a faded cheek. Restore the health of one who fair would die To rid herself of all the pain she feels."

The aforesaid spinster took the remedy—and forthwith took a husband also, having regained her health and blooming beauty. Thousands of women owe their fresh, blooming countenances to the restorative effects of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It is a positive cure for the most complicated and obstinate cases of leucorrhea, excessive flow, painful menstruation, unnatural suppressions, profluvium, or falling of the womb, weak back, female weakness, anæmia, retroversion, bearing-down sensations, chronic congestion, inflammation and ulceration of the womb.
